DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments, see Response filed 5/5/05, with respect to claim 1 have been fully considered and are persuasive. Therefore, the rejection has been withdrawn. However, upon further consideration, a new ground(s) of rejection is made in view of Maekawa et al.

Claim Objections

2. The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

Claim 3 is listed both as (Cancelled) and as a (New) claim. For purposes of examination, the (New) claim has been treated as claim 3.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

Art Unit: 2624

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1, 3-4, 7-8, 10-15, & 17 are rejected under 35

U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Maekawa et al.

Re claims 1, 4, 7-8, 10-13, 15, & 17, Maekawa et al discloses (Figures 4-9 and column 5, line 62 - column 10, line 44; particularly column 5, line 64 - column 6, line 6; column 7, lines 12-16; and column 9, line 49-59) an arrangement in which a computer sends instructions to a printer which are executed by the printer to carry out print jobs (in which the printer generates a hard copy representation of data representing an image), and the printer sends instructions which are executed by the computer to generate the display of a print status page.

Re claim 3, the instructions are an "agent" of the printer, insofar as they are agents through which the computer generates a print status display in response to the printer's instructions.

Re claim 14, Maekawa et al discloses (Figure 5) that the printer and computer are connected by a network.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 5-6, 9, 16, & 18-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Maekawa et al.

Re claims 5-6, 9, 16, & 18-23, Maekawa et al does not disclose the specific recited formats for the instructions (HTML, Javascript, or C-Sharp code) or the print status page (Web page).
